FINANCE AND TRADE.

A Growing Demand from the Country for Loans and Currency.

New York Exchange Firmers—The Clearings $4,700,000.

The Produce Markets Nervous—Provisions Less Active.

Grain Strong and Weak by Turns, Closing Heavy.

FINANCIAL.

The loan market continues quiet, but firm. There is a sufficient demand for loans to keep the funds of the banks in use without having much of an idle surplus. In fact, last two or three weeks there has been a great amount of currency and discounts has been applied for from the country. This goes mainly to the hog country. The drivers are buying largely from the farmers, to whom they must pay cash. As the drivers are held back from the market for the purpose of insuring a profit, the country banks have been reduced to a minimum. The result is that the market for drivers of hogs at this point have been light for a week. In other directions nothing new presents itself.

The business of the banks is fair. The supply of money is fair, and miscellaneous borrowing reaches moderate figures.

Bankers of discount are easy at 8½% per cent to recognize, and concessions of 2 or 3 per cent can be secured by good credit borrowers for short time, with the best of collateral.

On the street there is less activity than among the banks, as the latter, in the present quiet condition of the market, absorb most of the available paper that is creditable.

The orders from the country for currency are larger, but not as heavy.

New York exchange was a trifle firmer, and was offered at 50 cents discount for $1,000 between banks.

The clearings were $4,700,000.

The State Superintendent of Banking in New York, as stirred up by the failure of the Third Avenue Savings Bank to let the public know what he is doing, has examined his papers, and, as far as he can be sure, as a banker, that there are two or three of the smaller banks that will have to be closed up.

The prosecution of the guilty officers of the Third Avenue Savings Bank is pushed with relentless vigor, and several additional arrests have been made. The frauds connected with the disappearance of its funds are being exposed, and the names of the persons involved are threatened. The officers of the New York State officials towards the officers of this bank 've gone one to follow.

STOCK-BROKERS' COMMISSIONS.

A petition, wisely signed, is to be presented to the New York Stock Exchange, asking it to reduce the commission on stocks to 1½% per cent. The petition objects to the present rates because the market broker, without capital, gets the same remuneration as the capitalist operators, who take all the risks.

NOTWITHSTANDING AND POLICIES OF INSURANCE.

It is said that the New Jersey Supreme Court has decided it to be unconstitutional, for the security of mortgagors, that the right of the holder of a mortgage to sue for these benefits by mortgagees, shall be expressly assigned to them by the mortgagees. The words written on the face of many policies, that the loss, if any, shall be payable to the mortgagee, are deemed insufficient to warrant the company issuing the policies in making payment of loss to any but the owner of the fee.

THE DUTY ON TEA AND COFFEE.

Among the fiscal experiments by which Secretary Bristow will seek to raise the necessary revenue for the coming year for the sinking fund, the reimposition of the duties on tea and coffee will no doubt appear. Whether the Secretary will succeed in persuading a Congress to impose a tax on tea and coffee, the duties that were abolished by Democratic vote is very doubtful. The correspondent at Washington of the New York Daily Bulletin thinks the attempt will fail. He says:

There is not the least probability that any tax will be imposed on coffee; because, notwithstanding ready hand presentation in the large stocks of both on hand as the best argument for a "free breakfast," it is an impossible thing that this Congress will, at the coming session, impose duties on tea and coffee. And, as far as tea is concerned, it is a fact that, though that body, the then Democratic party, is by all contingencies of the Speaker and organization, is represented against any policy that would increase the taxes.

Much interest has been excited by the statement that the duties abolished were directly added to the price, and it has been disputed. The Hon. James R. Farnsworth, United States Minister to Brazil, has written to the Secretary of State, asking for a copy of the documents of the Brazilian Government. He says that the repeal of the duty on coffee benefited the Brazilian coffee growers, but not the consumers in the United States. We quote:

"When the news was known of the abolition of the duty on the coffee, it was expected that the price would be raised, and the price in the United States suffered no abatement. It was supposed, and intended, that the coffee would come in at a lower price. The United States, and especially of Brazil, would suffer the loss of the amount of the duty withdrawn. The consequences of that repeal, however, was entirely different from that expectation. In the same year, when the duty was first imposed, and afterward increased during the civil war, the effect was felt in Brazil even more, in fact, than in the United States."

Mr. David A. Wells gives a similar instance, in one of his reports on the revenue, of the effect of a reduction of the duty on tea. It was followed by no reduction in the price.

A TRULY MODEL RING.

HOW TO STEAL AND NOT CONCEAL.

Special Dispatch to The Chicago Tribune.

WISCONSIN, Nov. 26.—It was a truly model Whisky-Ring that organized here for running the crooked and robbing the revenue. The case was a model, which, when the inevitable exposures came, it half-supported. The whisky defense it has made and is making through the press of this city, owned and controlled by the Ring, the sudsacity with which it has manipulated public sentiment here, and so manipulated it as to array a share of it, at least, in support of the Ring-tieves; and, finally, its success in tampering with juries—all go to show that it was a truly model Ring. How far back its operations extend has not been developed, nor how it was organized, further than this: That during the Senatorial canvas, when Matt Carpenter was a candidate for re-election, Bierce, who did not give Carpenter the political support desired, and who besides had quarreled with Boss Keyes, was removed and Conkling appointed in his stead as Senator for the district. The story generally circulated, and which I get upon excellent authority, is that Keyes peremptorily demanded of Carpenter Bierce's removal and Conkling's appointment upon penalty of Keyes turning his whole political influence against Carpenter in the Senatorial contest, and that thereon the change was made through Carpenter's influence.

Cooking had been Supervisor for the New Orleans District, from which he was removed for irregularities, and his irregularities have begun to manifest to those who had opportunity for seeing almost immediately after he entered upon his office as Revenue Agent.

The conditions were wonderfully favorable for any and every thief. Munn was Supervisor, and the developments as to Munn have been so voluminous that the full significance of that fact will not be apparent until the exposures come. It is to be noted that the first exposure of the Ring was Supervisor's. It is to be noted that Munn was Supervisor, and that he was removed for irregularities, and his irregularities have begun to manifest to those who had opportunity for seeing almost immediately after he entered upon his office as Revenue Agent.

WITH SUPPLEMENT.

Greenbacks at the New York Gold Exchange yesterday closed at 87½.

The Common Council last evening passed the revised and amended building ordinance, the changes in which had been drafted with considerable care. It is expected that the practical experience of Superintendent BAILEY and his subordinates in working under the provisions of the ordinance will from time to time demonstrate the necessity of further revision and amendment, which can be accomplished more at leisure hereafter.

The obsequies of the late HENRY WILSON, Vice-President of the United States, were begun in Washington yesterday morning, and from thence the remains were conveyed to Baltimore and Philadelphia, being placed in state in Independence Hall in the latter city, where thousands of people waited until long after midnight for the privilege of viewing the features of the dead statesman. A greater demonstration of popular affection, sorrow, and respect has not been witnessed since the funeral of ABRAHAM LINCOLN.

There are grave grounds for the apprehension that a great spiritual upheaval is not to reward the labors of MOODY and SANKEY in Philadelphia. At the meetings yesterday there was a decided falling off in attendance, though this may be due not so much to a general abatement of revival zeal and interest as to the pangs of dyspepsia consequent upon too much Thanksgiving the day before. A sour stomach is not as a rule conducive to religious fervor, and Mr. Moody may reasonably count upon seeing indifference dispel along with indigestion.

CARTER H. HARRISON, the Democratic Congressman-elect from the Second District, is by two days too old a bird to be caught with the snare of the interviewer. The two days that had intervened since BARTLEY CAULFIELD "gave himself away" to an insinuating reporter were quite as good as two years in Congress to the West Side statesmen. He saw where BARTLEY missed it, and profited by the fourth pass of his colleague. Harrison has bills, and views, and plans, and things; but being, as he would put it, a politician of sensible sensibility, he declines to furnish food for editorial matter. Cautious CARTER!

The evidence brought forward yesterday at the Coroner's inquest upon the remains of murdered CHARLEY WETLAND fully confirms and justifies the assertion that the murderer is absolutely without a shadow of defense to offer on his trial. According to his own admission, he can only submit a plea which the law declares is worthless and unavailing—that he was crazed by liquor when he fired the fatal shot. It is gratifying to learn that the course of justice is likely to be rapid and direct in the case of the murderer DAVIS; that he will be indicted to-day, and his trial set for Wednesday next in the Criminal Court. This is none too swift or sudder to meet the imperative demands of public sentiment. The people of Chicago are in no mood to be trifled with in this matter.

Senator FEAR, of Michigan, ex-officio Vice-President, has consented to be interviewed on the currency question. He states that his views have undergone no change since the first session of the Forty-third Congress; that he is opposed to inflation, but would abolish the National Bank system and have a uniform currency issued by the Government and receivable for all taxes and duties whatsoever. As Chairman of the Senate Committee he accepted the Resumption act as a compromise measure, but was opposed to fixing any date for a return to specie payment. He still thinks the designation of a definite date was a mistake, and that it would be better to limit the circulation to $800,000,000, and have a currency at once uniform and receivable as gold for all purposes throughout the United States.

The Chicago produce markets were rather nervous yesterday. Mess pork was quiet and 4@10c per lb higher, closing at $19.42@19.45 seller the year, and $19.55 for February. Lard was less active, and 2@10c per 100 lbs higher, closing at $12.30 each, and $12.40 for February. Meats were quiet and unchanged, 7@10c for shoulders, 10@10c for short ribs, and 10@10c for short cleans, all boxed. Highwines were in fair demand and steady, at $1.11@10c per gallon. Flour was dull and unchanged. Wheat was active and advanced 2c, closing weak at $1.05@10c and $1.05@10c for December. Corn was dull, and declined 2c, closing at 50c for November, and 47c for the year. Oats were active and unchanged, closing at 30c@10c, and 31c for January. Rye was firm at 68@69c. Barley was quiet and firm, closing at 87c@88c cash, and 86c for December. Hogs were active and 5@10c higher for packers' grades. Sales were at $6.90@7.25 for common to prime. Cattle were moderately active and steady. Sheep were steady and unchanged. One hundred dollars in gold would buy $114.37 in greenbacks at the close.

A TRIBUNE correspondent at Milwaukee has wrestled with the Whisky King in that city to some purpose, as will be seen by our dispatches this morning. The "crooked" distillers, rectifiers, and revenue officials in our neighboring city have thus far manifested in a wonderful degree the science of secrecy and their success in covering each other's tracks and buying up juries has been strangely in contrast with the general collapse of the Ring in St. Louis. But enough has been demonstrated to prove that there is a big mine of revenue frauds in Milwaukee which only needs some resolute digging and a few sharp explosions to be worked with great results. A little more energy and skill on the part of the engineers in charge, and a free use of blasting powder all around, is evidently required to start things over again.

The London Times exults over the acquisition by England of the Suez Canal stock, and sees therein a new and important phase of the Eastern policy. It thinks that DURANCA has in view the possible complications which may arise from the chronically-discontented condition of the Turkish provinces, and the long-existing jealousies of the Continental Powers. It is also hinted that should either of these causes result in the political dismemberment of the Ottoman Empire, England, by having a good foothold in Egypt, would have the opportunity, should she desire, of cancelling the weighty financial obligations of Turkey, now hanging heavily upon the English market, by helping herself to territory adjacent to the canal, the primary object being to secure the undisputed possession of the short route to India as an offset to present and prospective Russian aggression.

But the ladies were not the only ones present; their number was reinforced by a small delegation of men, who took seats in the background, forming a sort of rear guard, under the leadership of Elder Jenkins. At 10 o'clock Rev. T. W. Goodspeed, who had come to explain the reason that the ladies who have been instrumental in the movement had desired him to do so, Mr. Jenkins was chosen to preside, and Mrs. Dr. Goodspeed opened the meeting with prayer.

England institution, but, since the War, Thanksgiving had come to be a national holiday." Another styled it a "Puritan" institution, and a third, the "President's."

We shall prove that Thanksgiving was a national holiday long before the War, and with greater sanctity than that of the President alone, that it is not a "Puritan" institution, nor a "New England," nor a "President's" institution. But in so affirming we would not detract from the virtues and faults of the Puritans, nor from the less regard for that part of the country which had much to do with the formation and education of our whole people for the martyred President, nor dispense with the innumerable services of the Chief Magistrate, the selected and honored head of this people, whom we are commanded as Christians and taught as churchmen to honor "in authority."

Moreover, chief rulers, since and even before Moses, have held authority to appoint annual festive days. But assuredly the world did not wait for New England to discover the religiousness of giving thanks, nor for a President to proclaim the fruits of an annual Thanksgiving Day for the annual fruit-bearing of the earth.

The clear and open reply to these errors is found in the universal prevalence of Thanksgiving Day. Such a day had been so ancient and so universal a gladness, that the disposition to place it in modern times, and to locate it in New England, is really monstrous.

Philadelphia, Nov. 23.—There were scarcely any features of interest in the Thanksgiving meetings of Moody and Sankey, except the development of a feeling of indignation among the members of the press, the clergy, and the general public, that the Sabbath was not observed.

Philadelphia, Nov. 23.—There was a general observance of the day of thanksgiving for the fruits of the earth in July, but the harvest and thanksgiving offerings to Bacchus for the vintage?

These features not only had passing favor and celebrity, but were also of great interest.

sequently, it was then always God's providence and not themselves that determined the day. Now is that the great feature of our Thanksgiving Day? Is it not that it always had, and yet still has, the same character, the same incidents and scenes of Almighty God?

Therefore our annual Thanksgiving Day is neither in its origin from New England, nor in its character as a Puritan.

Again, did our civil rulers establish this day among us? We have already seen that Thanksgiving Day for the fruits of the earth, and for the welfare and happiness of the whole people, was established by the people themselves.
